Test 4 : Read the following passage and answer the questions.

NYLON

Nylon was invented in the 1930s by an American chemist Jullia Hill. Other scientists worked with his invention and finally on 27th October 1938 Nylon was introduced to the world. The products were popular and successful because they were cheap and strong, especially in the making of ladies' stockings.

During the 2nd world war the best present for many women was a pair of nylon stockings, but more importantly it was used to make parachutes and tyres.

Today nylon is found in many things: carpets, ropes, seat belts, furniture, computers, and even spare parts for the human body. It has played an important part in our lives for over 50 years. Every year about 36 million tons of it is manufactured.
